

ALEXANDRIA, VA.
WEDNESDAY EVENING, APRIL 27.

MR. HEMPHILL, editor of the Charleston News and Courier, in an article in the Forum for May, says:

"The South is not insipidly named the New South, as it is a travesty upon the South as it was in the golden days of the Republic, when the conduct of its representatives in Congress was controlled by patriotic motives rather than purely personal considerations, and when public questions were settled upon their merits and not upon the possible effect the votes on them have upon success in 'getting the delegates' to the nominating conventions. The changes wrought by war and reconstruction have not only affected the national interests of the South, but it is plain that they have also tainted the character of our citizenship. In the New South men seek office for the money that is in it rather than for the service they can render to their country, and men who hold office not infrequently administer the duties of their stations as a 'private snafu,' rather than as a public trust. The ideal has given place to the material, and principle stands aside for policy."

Every man old enough to remember the golden days to which Mr. Hemphill refers, and wise enough to compare them with the present, knows that every one of his quoted words is as true as gospel. The deterioration in the character of the people of the South since the war between the States has been phenomenal, so much so that if the fathers of the present generation of southern men could return, they would not recognize their own offspring.

SENATOR PADDOCK made a speech in the Senate opposing a Congressional appropriation for the G. A. B. meeting in Washington next September, for the reason that a city in his State, Nebraska, proffered to pay the expense of the meeting if held there. No matter what inducements may have been offered and refused to hold the meeting in other cities, the fact is indisputable that the people of the whole country should not be taxed $200,000 to hold it in Washington. If the Washington people want it there, let them pay the expense. Surely the poor people of the whole country, comparatively few of whom will be in that city next September, should not be taxed to pay their full share of it, as they will be if Congress shall make the asked for appropriation. The people of the whole country are taxed on the necessities of life a hundred and forty million a year to give pensions to the G. A. B., and if that organization be not able to pay the expenses of its annual meetings, let the cities that want those meetings held in them raise the requisite money, as, if there be any acrobing benefit, it is to the people thereof, and certainly not to those of all the other parts of the country.

THE REFUSAL of the democratic members of the U. S. House of Representatives to attend the sessions of that body, thereby allowing the republican minority therein to oppose successfully every measure not acceptable to it, is shameful, to say the least. They are paid nearly fourteen dollars a day and mileage for every day in the year, including recess and Sundays. If not satisfied with that, they should resign and permit more efficient men to be elected in their places.

IF, AS stated, ahead and herring, when grown, return to their birthplace, but few born there will ever come back to the Potomac, for reason itself, let alone instinct, could hardly have enabled the fish referred to, bound to the spawning grounds in the waters of the upper river, to reach their destination through the traps, nets and seines that have beset their pathway.

WHEN THE head of a family of five members that the yearly tax on the wooden goods contained in his house amounts to no less than sixty dollars, he becomes not only an ardent advocate of the free wool bill, but an earnest opponent of appropriations for both the Chicago fair and for the entertainment of the G. A. B. at Washington next September.

OF THE eighteen delegates elected to the State democratic convention in this city yesterday, thirteen were on the straight Hill ticket, and of its remaining five on the unpledged ticket, several do not class themselves as Cleveland men. The democrats of Alexandria are intelligent, and are deficient in neither memory nor gratitude.

LYNCHBURG WENT for Hill, Alexandria has gone the same way, and Petersburg, Norfolk, and Richmond will follow suit. All that right thinking people require to do right, is to be well informed.

FROM WASHINGTON.
[Special Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 27, 1892.

In the House this morning, on motion of Mr. Wise of Virginia, a bill was passed appropriating $15,500 for the construction of a telephone line on the coast of Virginia from Cape Charles to Assateague Island.

Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore and Archbishop Williams of Boston arrived here today and assisted this afternoon at the laying of the corner stone of McMahon Hall of the Catholic University. Cardinal Gibbons made a short address.

Senator Barbour and Representative Jones, the latter a member of House river and harbor committee, were before the commerce committee of the Senate to-day in reference to the appropriations for Virginia contained in the river and harbor bill, which Mr. Frye thought were a little out of proportion to those for other States. They were informed that they would be notified of any proposed change.

The steamer Excelsior was sold to-day at her wharf in this city to Mr. C. B. Lewis of Hog Island, Va., the owner of the Bee and the Tyger, for $15,000.

The State Department places no credence in the reports that Canadian sealers propose to enter Behring Sea under the protection of governments other than Great Britain and the United States.

The bill by which the B. and O. R. R. wishes to cross the Potomac within the District lines was brought up in the House District of Columbia committee to-day, but was laid over, as it was stated that arrangements had been made for the members of the committee and those of the Senate District committee also to ride over the proposed route, and also that of the Norfolk and Western Road, during the next three or four days, and they would know better what to do after that ride.

Senator Hill is much gratified at the good opinion entertained for him by the democrats of Alexandria, as manifested by the result of the primary election in that city yesterday. He was shown a private dispatch from Montgomery county, in the State of Virginia, this morning, stating that that county and the town of Radford, in Southwest Virginia, had elected Hill delegates yesterday. Montgomery is the home of Judge Staples. Wise county, in the same section of the State, it is reported here, has gone the same way.

The House District of Columbia committee to-day agreed to bills removing the commission tax on produce dealers, and to prevent cruelty to children and animals. The committee also referred the bill to prohibit fishing in the waters of the District of Columbia, to the fisheries committee.

The House immigration committee will report that the expected ureas at Ellis Island have been extravagant, that the buildings there cost double the right price, and that the appropriation of the immigrant head money for the expenses of that station was without warrant.

The House fisheries committee met to-day and reversed by a vote of six to one their action of last week, which was favorable to the bill allowing citizens from other States to fish in the waters of Virginia irrespective of the laws of that State.

Senator Quay to-day introduced a bill appropriating $50,000 for the erection in this city of a statue to the late Admiral Porter.

The House committee on banking and currency to-day began the investigation of the failure of the Keystone and Spring Garden National banks of Philadelphia and the Mavrick national bank of Boston. Comptroller Lacy was examined.

The naval appropriation bill was to-day reported to the Senate from the committee on appropriations, amended by providing for one coast line battleship of 9,000 tons; one coast defense turret ship, four light draught gun-boats and six torpedo boats. An appropriation of $100,000 is added for new breech mechanism plant at the Washington ordnance factory. Senator Daniel's amendment of $800,000 for a naval review is cut down to $500,000.

Representative Lester of the 5th, the Danville, district, was in his seat this morning for the first time in several months, having been detained at home by sickness.

The members of the national democratic committee in this city and Col. Bruce, sergeant-at-arms of the national democratic convention, held a conference at the Senate to-day in respect of certain arrangements of that committee. Senator Barbour was present. It is probable that the committee will have to make a trip to Chicago before the arrangements referred to can be definitely determined.

Favorable action was taken by the House committee on agriculture to-day on the Senate bill to provide for fixing a uniform standard of classification and grading of wheat, corn, oats, barley and rye.

Letter from Page.

[Correspondence of the ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE.]
LURAY, April 26.—The mass meeting to appoint delegates to the democratic convention at Richmond was held here at the court house on court day. The attendance was not large and the object of the meeting was soon accomplished. The delegates are unopposed.

The general sentiment among the party in this county is for Cleveland, though as yet there is but little talk or exchange of opinions on the subject, and it cannot now be known how many favor Hill or other candidates.

General Reese was here on a short visit, but further than meeting his many army friends and greeting his admirers gave no public indication of his intentions for the future. He is looking well and prosperous, with all of his old time push and strength, and would conduct a canvass, once entered, with the same vim and courage with which he led the boys of the Laurel brigade in the charge at Trevilian.

The recent vote of Col. O'Ferrall, and his efforts to seat the republican contestant from New York in opposition to a majority of his colleagues in the House, may be right in his own judgment, and we have no wish to say it was not, but as the majority was against him, we must give them the credit of being right, not only in their own, but in the judgment of many in the party who can see no good cause for his course. Then, again, it is a commitment to the republicans, with whom he voted, to say they were right. We do not feel like admitting it, to say the least, especially when we remember the fate of Wise and Vance, who were so mercilessly slaughtered, though elected, and that, by the same party with whom he voted to oust Rockwell. This, to us, seems a wondrous strange, and all the more so since the only question involved, so far as we can see, is one of legal doubt that stands as much, if not more so, for Rockwell as for his contestant.

Congressional.

In the U. S. Senate yesterday the army appropriation bill was taken up and a number of amendments made. The President's communication declaring that it would be advisable to publish the correspondence with reference to an international monetary conference was received, and ordered to be printed.

In the House the Senate amendments to the urgent deficiency appropriation bill were non-concurred in. A conference committee consisting of Messrs. Sayre, Holman and Dingley was appointed.

The House agreed to the request of the Senate for a conference on the Chinese exclusion bill.

The House military affairs committee decided to non-concur in the Senate amendments to the bill to provide for liberal promotion in the army, and the House will be asked to appoint conferees.

Representative McKee, of Arkansas, chairman of the committee on public lands, reintroduced the bill for the construction of railroads, opposite to and co-terminus with the portions of the railroad not completed within the time specified in the granting act.

An attempt on the life of election commissioner Schweisblatt, of Chicago, was made by a man named Thomas Keenan last night. The reason for the action is that Keenan lost his savings by the closing of the bank which Schweisblatt controlled.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Hon. W. R. Springer, of Illinois, has been renominated for Congress without opposition.

The Odd Fellows of Baltimore and Maryland and all their friends made a gala day yesterday. The occasion was the seventy-third anniversary of their order in the United States, and besides the fine, new home of the organization in Baltimore was dedicated.

The republicans of Maine, New Hampshire and New Jersey held State conventions to-day and endorsed President Harrison, high tariff, &c. The Ohio Republicans also met to-day when the state made up by the Sherman men yesterday was altered by the Foraker men.

Yesterday afternoon, when Seventh avenue, New York, was crowded with women and children and the roadway was filled with pleasure wagons, two policemen undertook to settle their grievances with clubs and pistols. The result was that several innocent persons were shot and wounded.

Special advice from Puerto Cabello, Venezuela, report that Palacios's generals, Ybarra and Casanas, are cooped up in Valencia, cut off from supplies and reinforcements and surrounded by the federalists. The village of Los Tegues pulled General Quedano from his horse and stoned him and his aide to death.

The Berlin police made another raid on anarchists' quarters in that city yesterday and arrested twenty men. The authorities in Italy are also arresting all parties suspected of being anarchists. The Bulgarian authorities arrested the ringleaders in the conspiracy to assassinate Prince Ferdinand and the members of the ministry.

The New York legislature passed the re-appointment bill, and the extra session is at an end. Governor Hill says: "I do not conceal my gratification over the new appointment made by the legislature to-day. It is the crowning act of last fall's victory. Its importance cannot be overestimated. It enables the people for the first time in thirty years to be equitably and fairly represented in the legislature, and gives to the democratic party hereafter the control of that body in both branches."

VIRGINIA NEWS.

Gen. G. W. C. Lee and Col. Edmund Pendleton are confined to their homes in Lexington by sickness.

Spiller Foster, the young man charged with the murder of Blair Brown, at New River depot, Pulaski county, last Thursday, was taken to Lynchburg on Monday for safe keeping.

Eight out of eleven counties in the Fourth Congressional district have elected Mahone-Langston delegates to the republican district convention, to be held at Farmville on May 4th next, which will elect delegates to the State convention at Roanoke on May 5th.

The Anarchists.

Assisted in the GAZETTE, the trial of Ravachol and his four accomplices took place in Paris yesterday. Ravachol brazenly assumed the entire responsibility for the Boulevard St. Germain and the Rue Clotchy explosions, telling how he prepared and fired the bombs, and declaring that he committed the outrages to draw public attention to the needs of the anarchists. He detailed the manner in which he went about the work and declared that his purpose was to see anarchy established. He and a companion named Simon were found guilty and sentenced to penal servitude for life. The others, including a girl, were acquitted. Simon is a youth of 18 years, with aquiline eyes and a villainous appearance generally. Beala and Chamarin present a more pleasing appearance. Rosalie Soubere was pale and quail, with unkempt hair.

A MOTHER'S INHUMAN ACT.—A case which in all its aspects is a very painful one came up for trial in London yesterday. Henry Foot, a prominent resident of Clare, brought an action for damages against Mr. Climpson, a member of a London firm, charging him with the betrayal of his daughter, who is only 14 years of age. Climpson not only seduced her, but also led the girl's mother astray. The case is regarded as a thousand times worse by the fact that the mother, whose relations with the defendant were then meretricious, aided her paramour in his designs against her child.

The development of to-day lead to the belief that the defendant is not so black as he was painted. After reading a letter, the contents of which were not made public, the prosecution was abandoned and the jury rendered a verdict in favor of the defendant.

HIS ARM WRENCHED OFF.—Edward Lochhead, an employe at Allen's Agricultural Works, in Philadelphia, was standing on a ladder yesterday, adjusting a belt on a fast revolving overhead pulley, and had reached his arm through the rungs of the ladder when the arm was caught in the spokes of the wheel, and he and the ladder were instantly drawn up. The ladder broke in two when it reached the ceiling, but Lochhead was whirled three times around the shaft, his heels striking the ceiling at each turn. When he fell to the floor his right arm was wrenched off above the elbow. He was picked up unconscious by his companions and sent to the Episcopal hospital.

DOORS FOR A PALACE.—Sixty men, ten months' work, and $50,000 have produced for the new marble residence of William K. Vanderbilt, at Newport, the finest brocade doors ever made for a private residence. The doors and their frame work are 22 feet wide and 16 feet in height, and weigh more than ten tons. Each door weighs over one ton and a half, yet, so nicely are they balanced, a child can move them.

TICK-TICK AT A WEDDING.—The usually solemn wedding ceremony was turned into a roaring farce yesterday at a mansion on Madison avenue, New York. Just as the minister was about to pronounce the benediction an alarm clock which the bride had in her pocket started to ring, causing consternation, which was only relieved by the timely aid of the best man, who consigned the unruly timepiece to the street.

MARRIED.

WASHINGTON, April 27.

SENATE.

The presiding officer laid before the Senate a communication from the Department of Justice in relation to the bequest of $250,000 to the United States by Gen. George W. Canham, deceased, for the erection and maintenance of a memorial hall at the West Point Military Academy.

It was referred to the committee on military affairs.

The resolution calling on the Secretary of the Treasury for certain information as to the purchase of silver bullion and the coinage of standard silver dollars under the act of 1890, was agreed to with an amendment offered by Mr. Morrill, requiring the Secretary to state also the amount which the silver dollars and bullion on hand would have cost at the present price of silver bullion.

The army appropriation bill was then taken up.

HOUSE.

By unanimous consent (the Walker expunging resolution still blocking the way of the regular order) the House went into committee of the whole on the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill. Mr. Hooker was the first speaker. He complimented Mr. Blaine on his conduct of the State Department.

Foreign News.

LONDON, April 27.—A dispatch from Rio Janeiro states that the Brazilian government has ordered its consuls abroad to refuse to dispatch vessels for Matto Grosso, which State has declared its independence of the Brazilian republic.

Baron Castelnau died to-day. He was born July 25th, 1826. He will be succeeded by his eldest son, the Hon. Albert Edward Hancock.

PARIS, April 27.—When the jury in the case of the anarchists returned at 3 o'clock this morning and rendered a verdict of guilty with extenuating circumstances, against Ravachol and Simon these two persons did not in any way show that they expected anything different. After Judge Gues had sentenced them to penal servitude for life they shouted "Vive l'anarchie!" "Vive la revolution sociale!" The verdict occasioned much surprise, but it is the general opinion that the "extenuating circumstances" part of the verdict was due entirely to the fear of the jurors that if the prisoners were condemned to death they would fall victim to anarchist vengeance. Some held that the jury had shown a woeful lack of courage, while others told that the explosion in M. Verv's restaurant showed that the friends of the prisoners were fully capable of carrying into execution their threats to kill the jurymen if any of the prisoners were sent to the guillotine, and that the former were therefore justified in returning a verdict that would prevent themselves from becoming objects of revenge for the anarchists. The public generally condemn the verdict. No one doubts that the jury was terrorized, and the result is regarded as a triumph for the dynamites. The conciliatory tone of Judge Gues who presided at the trial and his excessive indulgence to the anarchists are severely condemned. It is suggested that the jury took their cue from the judge. A majority of the people in the corridors of the Palace of Justice were first amazed when they heard of the verdict, and then many of them became indignant. As some of the jurymen passed the excited groups they were greeted with angry cries of "cowards." The police to-day arrested twenty-five anarchists at Roubaix, a large manufacturing town in the Department du Nord.

Gen. Grant's Monument.

NEW YORK, April 27.—The first stone of the great mausoleum which is to perpetuate the memory of Gen. Ulysses S. Grant was laid in Riverside Park at two o'clock this afternoon. President Harrison, in the presence of his cabinet and thousands of citizens, laid the granite block upon which is to be built the tomb. The President was accompanied by members of his cabinet, and they all witnessed the ceremony except Secretary Blaine, whose ill health was assigned for his absence. There was no marked martial display attending the ceremonies save the presence of a sprinkling of officers of the army and navy and troop A, which accompanied the President to the park. The whole ceremony was civic from every point of view. Dr. John Hall offered prayer, and Gen. Porter, president of the Grant monument association, spoke. When he concluded the corner stone was swung into place and President Harrison placed the first cement upon it with a trowel made of gold, after which he delivered an address. Mr. Chauncey M. Depew then delivered the oration of the day. The ceremony was concluded by firing a salute from the monitor Manitowah.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEVITIES.

Patsy Cardiff and Billy Keough fought to a finish at Portland, Oregon, last night for a purse of $800. Keough won the fight in 13 rounds.

The Illinois State democratic convention met to-day. The McKinley tariff law was denounced and the tariff plank of the democratic platform of 1884 and 1888 reaffirmed. The Palmer men were aggressive and confident, and the Cleveland forces slightly discouraged, but resolved to make a vigorous fight against instructions for the Illinois candidates.

Shepard Busby was hanged in the United States jail at Fort Smith, Ark., this morning for the murder of Deputy U. S. Marshal Barney Connolly in the Indian Territory last year. He talked a half hour on the scaffold, making out a case of self defense. The old hangman, Maldon, who has hanged his four score from the same beam, did not execute Busby on account of old friendship between them. Half a dozen women were among the witnesses of the execution.

Harry Rogers hanged Rev. Father O'Kane, a Catholic clergyman, at the public street at Eureka, Cal., yesterday with a horse whip. The trouble grew out of assertions reflecting on the honesty of Rogers's wife made from the altar some time ago.

Samuel Lave, an extensive cattle shipper, was shot and killed by his brother-in-law, John Withers, in a dispute over a fence near Fort Scott, Kan., yesterday. Two passes are hunting the murderer, who says he will not be taken alive. Rufus Jenkins, a deposed pastor, aged 70, was taken from his house in Knoxville, Tenn., last night by whites and cowboys so brutally that he is expected to die of the injuries. Jenkins had deserted his wife for another woman.

Volcanoes near Saltillo, Lower California, close to the Gulf, are in active operation. On the 16th of April an earthquake shock was felt and almost immediately the volcanoes became quite active.

Decrs are so numerous in the vicinity of Plainfield, Mich., that the total destruction of the young wheat crop by those quadrupeds is threatened.

The Athenaeum Building, in Chicago, was the scene of a fire last night resulting in a loss of $60,000.

In New York harbor yesterday evening the engine of the ferry steamer Cincinnati fell into the crank pit and was crushed to death. The steamer then ran with full force into the Courtland street pier and injured several passengers.

Pronounced Helpless, Yet Saved.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hunt, of Groton, S. D., we quote: "I was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up saying I could not live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took it in all eight bottles; it has cured me and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at C. G. Lennon's drug store, 604 King street. BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

At a regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen held April 26th, 1892, there were present: Wm. H. Marbury, esq., President, and Messrs. Burke, Hinken, Bryant and Leadbeater.

The petition of the Western Union Telegraph Company for erecting a line of telegraph poles on Fayette street between Queen and King streets, thereby displacing with the lines on Queen, Henry and Cameron streets was referred to the Committee on Streets.

The following were received from the Common Council and the Committee on Streets: The resolution that the Committee on Streets prepare and present to Council at its next meeting an ordinance for curbing, gutting and laying a six foot pavement on Alfred street, between Prince and Duke streets, on Alfred street between Prince and Duke streets, and on Princess street between Washington and Henry streets.

The report of the Finance Committee on the act to appropriate a part of the city revenue for the balance of the fiscal year ending May 31st, 1892, was received from Common Council, read and passed by a vote of six to five. The following vote: Ayes, Messrs. Burke, Hinken, Bryant, Leadbeater and Mr. President; Nays, Messrs. Marbury, C. N. Moore, J. J. Harrison, D. S. Strider, Uhler, Evans and McCann.

An act to appropriate a part of the city revenue for the balance of the fiscal year ending May 31st, 1892, with the favorable report of the Finance Committee, was read a second and third time and passed by the following vote: Ayes—Messrs. W. S. Moore, J. J. Harrison, D
